Seamless selection with SmartSort

How convenient would it be, if the cows you want to inseminate today are already waiting in a designated pen? How much time and money does it save you, your staff, the veterinarian and the inseminator if cows to be inseminated, treated or checked are together in a separate pen? And how much money does it make you to leave the rest of the herd go about their day, uninterrupted?

With the SmartSort sorting gate, cows that require special attention are sorted automatically to the right place, based on their heat or health status. Let the data decide and the gate divide. The Nedap SmartSort is an easy to install total solution, fully automated offering you a seamless integration with various cow management systems. It has the highest accuracy, is stress-free for your cows, increases labor efficiency and is safer for you and your staff.

> " The SmartSort system provides us 100% separation for the cows enrolled in reproduction synchronization programs on our farm. "
